Florida Health Sciences Library Association
Fall 2000

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT FALL CHANGES ARE ALL AROUND US!

There's a change in the air as we enter the autumn of this first year of the new millennium. The leaves are beginning to change with the corresponding changes in temperature. Other changes are all around us as some of us gear up for the new school year and that new group of interns or residents. The challenges that we face in the delivery of healthcare, the proliferation of electronic publications and our roles as information providers make the beginning of this new millennium both frightening and exciting at the same time. As a profession we have always led the way in the new technology. Often we had to wait for that technology to catch up to us in providing the services we desired. Now we are not only faced with downsized staff and fewer dollars but a proliferation of electronic journals and other documents. As librarians, information specialists, education specialists, informatics specialists, whatever catchword title we are assigned, we provide the necessary service of not only providing the information but also sifting through it so as to provide our patrons with the latest and most reliable documents. To provide these services, we need to be able to educate ourselves not only by attending meetings, seminars, and workshops but also having the freedom to take courses in fields related to our many tasks. I was very happy to see so many familiar faces and to welcome newcomers to our spring meeting. Thanks to Ellen Nagle, many of us were able to begin to understand the complicated issues of electronic journals and their contractual obligations. Dr. Ullmann provided us with tremendous insight into healthcare delivery and its impact on us, not only professionally but also personally. I know we will continue to face our challenges and support one another, whether in a meeting, via email, or the phone, in the evolving world of library and information science.

From The Editor's Desk

Well friends, the Alert is finally here. Originally I had planned to publish a summer issue, but due to a lackluster response from you all I had to wait until additional items were received.

I hope that all of you had a wonderful summer and right about now you all must be very busy with new and returning students and or doctors and residents. In this constantly changing environment of ours, it's nice that we can share our experiences, successes and failures with our colleagues, using the Alert and our listserv.

Those of you who are members of the FHSLA listserv would have seen the discussion with reference to the possibility of changing the format of the Alert i.e. from paper to electronic. However, this option would, in my opinion, only be viable if the majority of our members have access to email or would have access in the very near future. I would therefore like to request that all members who do not have email/internet access please inform me so that I may pass on this information to the relevant FHSLA committee, as some members are very interested in this issue. I would appreciate it if I could have your responses no later than October 15th, 2000.

I am very thankful to all of the contributors for helping to make this issue a success. I would like to encourage all members to send in any newsworthy item, they may have. I hope that the next issue will be out sometime during the spring. Therefore, you all have enough time to send in your pieces.

Along with my thanks to all the respective contributors, my special thanks goes to Mrs. Jolie Moore, without whose valuable help I would not have been able to get this issue out.

Good luck to you all and please keep those news items coming in. I look forward to hearing from all of you.

A Multitude of Thanks and Thanks to a Multitude of FHSLA Members, Chairs and Officers!

Another leaf has turned in the virtual book of FHSLA activities. Thanks to a multitude of people who planned, coordinated, and helped in many ways our Spring Conference was indeed a pleasure on the beach. Erica Powell, Carmen Rivera and Diane Rourke headed up the effort to welcome us to Miami Beach while making sure we had plenty of opportunities to learn and to network. Calder Memorial Library staff invited us into their facility, answered questions, and provided a multitude of services behind the scenes. Thanks to all the South Florida librarians who worked to make sure we had a good meeting, and the fun of digging through our bags for "toys." Even the media added excitement by making sure Florida eyes were on Miami during our stay!

It takes more than local hosts, planners and arrangements to do FHSLA's yearly work. The Spring Meeting is the visible result of some of that activity. I have to admit I was unaware of many members' contribution until I became an officer. Members who make more than a year's commitment provide much of FHSLA's continuity. Special thanks go to several of these members:

- Susan McCullough, whose work as continuing education coordinator helps us to build on our experience and avoid making the same mistakes twice - if we'll listen!
- Deedra Walton, who served as treasurer for a normal two-year term, and then volunteered to do it again.
- Jan Booker, whose continuing work as Union List Coordinator makes sure we don't miss any opportunities.
- Midge Wallace, whose work with the membership directory and willingness to offer help whenever she's called make sure we don't miss any members.
- Naomi Elia, whose continuing work on policies and procedures, and remembering what happened when makes valuable glue for FHSLA.

Members, thanks to each of you for the part you play in our association-the questions and ideas you post on the discussion list; the help you give to fellow members who call in a pinch; and the commitment you make to excellence in our profession.

It's been a pleasure to work with you.

USF and FSU Medical Information Sources and Services Course

Cheryl R. Dee, Ph.D. taught Medical Information Sources and Services via the Internet and with face-to-face meetings in Tampa and Tallahassee to sixteen enthusiastic library school students during the summer semester. The University of South Florida and Florida State sponsored the course. A class tour to the University of Florida Health Science Center, Gainesville, included excellent database searching instruction from Barbara Francis and Tara Tobin and a very informative tour of the UF Medical Informatics facilities by Richard Rathe, MD and his staff. Tallahassee tours included wonderful library tours by Pauline Hicks and Sharon Schwerzel. Tampa students studied electronic sources from the always-entertaining John Orriola and Danny O'Neal. Health science librarians from all over Florida individually mentored the library students by email and with tours of their libraries. The students and Dr. Dee consider the mentoring as a fantastic opportunity and would like to thank all of the mentors for sharing their valuable experience.

Calder Happenings

Suzetta Burrows and Kelly Moore facilitated □The Librarian as Publisher□ roundtable at the Annual Meeting of the Florida Health Sciences Library Association (FHSLA), April 7, 2000 on Miami Beach. Ms. Burrows presented a paper, □Weaving a Web-accessible, Point of Care, Team-based Information System (PoinTIS)□, co-authored with Kelly Moore and Henry L. Lemkau, Jr., at the Annual Meeting of the Medical Library Association and Canadian Health Sciences Library Association, May 10, 2000 in Vancouver, BC. She attended the Consortium of Southern Biomedical Libraries Retreat, held February 12-14 in Charleston, SC.

To prepare faculty in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences for the School's new case-based curriculum which begins in the Fall 2001, the Calder Library, together with Carmen B. Rivera, Librarian of the Department's Pomerance Library and Resource Center, developed and implemented a curriculum on core competencies in medical informatics. Beginning the week of May 22 and extending through July 6, 2000, 28 faculty members took as many as eleven 1 and 1/2 hour, hands-on courses in small groups of 2-3 in the Calder Library's electronic classroom, taught by Kelly Moore, Carmen Rivera, Joe Arriaga, Jenny Garcia, Geddy Paulaitis, and Michael Brennan.

New Web-Master

Tara Tobin is the new webmaster. Ms. Tobin succeeds Ramona Miller, who is no longer with the UF Health Sciences Library. We would like to say congratulations to Ramona and wish her all the best in her new position. To Tara, we wish her good luck as our new webmaster.

Hello all,

It is with great regret that I am stepping down from my position as Web-Master for the Florida Health Sciences Library Association. As of May 31st I will be leaving the UF Health Science Library for the local community college. With the switch I will be unable to continue my web-master duties. Tara Tobin has graciously agreed to take it over from me and I will be leaving it in her very capable hands. For the immediate future I will still be monitoring the FHSLA discussion list and continuing my other involvements in FHSLA. I have enjoyed working on the page and am grateful for all the input and encouragement everyone has given me.

Thank you,
Ramona Miller

Southern Chapter/MLA This year, SC/MLA is celebrating its 50th Anniversary. The meeting will be held from Oct 20-24. More information can be found at <http://southmed.usouthal.edu/2000/>

International Congress of Medical Librarianship

Cathy L. Schell, President Medical Decisions Software, Inc., recently attended the 8th International Congress on Medical Librarianship which was held in London England, from July, 2-5, 2000. While at the congress, Cathy was fortunate to have met many colleagues from around the world, as well as many from Florida. She also toured various medical institutions as well as presented a paper on "prospective indexing."

One of the tours included a visit to United Medical and Dental Schools of Guy's and St. Thomas Hospitals. She also visited the Hospital's Gordon Museum, which houses original specimens used by such physicians as Hodgkin, Bright and Addison. Dr. Thomas Hodgkin (of Hodgkin's Disease) was curator from 1825-1837.

It seems that this was a rich and rewarding experience for Cathy and she encourages everyone who is able to attend the next congress, held every five years, to do so. The next congress, which is the 9th, will be held in Sao Palo, Brazil in the year 2005.

Upcoming MLA Meetings

The annual meeting of the Medical Library Association will be held May 25-31, 2001 in Orlando, FL
